

Job 41

Englische King James Version von 1611/1769 mit Strongs

1 Canst thou draw out^{H4900} leviathan^{H3882} with an hook^{H2443}? or his tongue^{H3956} with a cord^{H2256} which thou lettest down^{H8257}? ¹² 2 Canst thou put^{H7760} an hook^{H100} into his nose^{H639}? or bore^{H5344} his jaw^{H3895} through with a thorn^{H2336}? ³ 3 Will he make many^{H7235} supplications^{H8469} unto thee? will he speak^{H1696} soft^{H7390} words unto thee? ⁴ 4 Will he make^{H3772} a covenant^{H1285} with thee? wilt thou take^{H3947} him for a servant^{H5650} for ever^{H5769}? ⁵ 5 Wilt thou play^{H7832} with him as with a bird^{H6833}? or wilt thou bind^{H7194} him for thy maidens^{H5291}? ⁶ 6 Shall the companions^{H2271} make a banquet^{H3739} of him? shall they part^{H2673} him among the merchants^{H3669}? ⁷ 7 Canst thou fill^{H4390} his skin^{H5785} with barbed irons^{H7905}? or his head^{H7218} with fish^{H1709} spears^{H6767}? ⁸ 8 Lay^{H7760} thine hand^{H3709} upon him, remember^{H2142} the battle^{H4421}, do no more^{H3254}. ⁹ 9 Behold, the hope^{H8431} of him is in vain^{H3576}: shall not one be cast down^{H2904} even at the sight^{H4758} of him? ¹⁰ 10 None is so fierce^{H393} that dare stir him up^{H5782 H5782}: who then is able to stand^{H3320} before^{H6440} me?

¹¹ 11 Who hath prevented^{H6923} me, that I should repay^{H7999} him? whatsoever is under the whole heaven^{H8064} is mine. ¹² 12 I will not conceal^{H2790} his parts^{H907}, nor his power^{H1369 H1697}, nor his comely^{H2433} proportion^{H6187}. ¹³ 13 Who can discover^{H1540} the face^{H6440} of his garment^{H3830}? or who can come^{H935} to him with his double^{H3718} bridle^{H7448}? ¹⁴ 14 Who can open^{H6605} the doors^{H1817} of his face^{H6440}? his teeth^{H8127} are terrible^{H367} round about^{H5439}. ¹⁵ 15 His scales^{H4043 H650} are his pride^{H1346}, shut up together^{H5462} as with a close^{H6862} seal^{H2368}. ¹⁶ 16 One^{H259} is so near^{H5066} to another^{H259}, that no air^{H7307} can come^{H935} between them. ¹⁷ 17 They are joined^{H1692} one^{H376} to another^{H251}, they stick together^{H3920}, that they cannot be sundered^{H6504}. ¹⁸ 18 By his neesings^{H5846} a light^{H216} doth shine^{H1984}, and his eyes^{H5869} are like the eyelids^{H6079} of the morning^{H7837}. ¹⁹ 19 Out of his mouth^{H6310} go^{H1980} burning lamps^{H3940}, and sparks^{H3590} of fire^{H784} leap out^{H4422}. ²⁰ 20 Out of his nostrils^{H5156} goeth^{H3318} smoke^{H6227}, as out of a seething^{H5301} pot^{H1731} or caldron^{H100}. ²¹ 21 His breath^{H5315} kindleth^{H3857} coals^{H1513}, and a flame^{H3851} goeth out^{H3318} of his mouth^{H6310}. ²² 22 In his neck^{H6677} remaineth^{H3885} strength^{H5797}, and sorrow^{H1670} is turned into joy^{H1750} before^{H6440} him. ²³ 23 The flakes^{H4651} of his flesh^{H1320} are joined together^{H1692}: they are firm^{H3332} in themselves; they cannot be moved^{H4131}. ²⁴ 24 His heart^{H3820} is as firm^{H3332} as a stone^{H68}; yea, as hard^{H3332} as a piece^{H6400} of the nether^{H8482} millstone. ²⁵ 25 When he raiseth up^{H7613} himself, the mighty^{H352} are afraid^{H1481}: by reason of breakings^{H7667} they purify^{H2398} themselves. ²⁶ 26 The sword^{H2719} of him that layeth^{H5381} at him cannot hold^{H6965}: the spear^{H2595}, the dart^{H4551}, nor the habergeon^{H8302}. ²⁷ 27 He esteemeth^{H2803} iron^{H1270} as straw^{H8401}, and brass^{H5154} as rotten^{H7539} wood^{H6086}. ²⁸ 28 The arrow^{H1121 H7198} cannot make him flee^{H1272}: slingstones^{H68 H7050} are turned^{H2015} with him into stubble^{H7179}. ²⁹ 29 Darts^{H8455} are counted^{H2803} as stubble^{H7179}: he laugheth^{H7832} at the shaking^{H7494} of a spear^{H3591}. ³⁰ 30 Sharp^{H2303} stones^{H2789} are under him: he spreadeth^{H7502} sharp pointed things^{H2742} upon the mire^{H2916}. ³¹ 31 He maketh the deep^{H4688} to boil^{H7570} like a pot^{H5518}: he maketh^{H7760} the sea^{H3220} like a pot of ointment^{H4841}. ³² 32 He maketh a path^{H5410} to shine^{H215} after^{H310} him; one would think^{H2803} the deep^{H8415} to be hoary^{H7872}. ³³ 33 Upon earth^{H6083} there is not his like^{H4915}, who is made^{H6213} without^{H1097} fear^{H2844}. ³⁴ 34 He beholdeth^{H7200} all high^{H1364} things: he is a king^{H4428} over all the children^{H1121} of pride^{H7830}.
